GENERAL NEWS

PATROL JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

This Committee met for the first time on Sunday. Some ninety eight members were referred to it and we are not yet half way into the patrol season calendar. From this initial list twenty members will be sent letters requesting them to attend our next meeting on the 11th December from 9am.

To avoid being referred to the Patrol Judiciary Committee, all you have to do is do your patrols. Should you miss a patrol the rules of the Club state are that you are required to make it up within three weeks from the date of your missed patrol. When making up missed patrols please have your attendance on the patrol attendance sheet recorded as a "MAKE UP" & not as "Voluntary", so your records are accurate.

If you are unable to attend a patrol please let your Patrol Captain know before your patrol date or as soon as possible after your patrol date. The Patrol Captain can have the reason entered onto the patrol sheet. The Patrol Judiciary Committee will be meeting on a three weekly cycle for the remainder of the season however, with your help we will have nothing to do.

MISSING ANNUAL REPORTS

Has anyone seen a copy of any of the three following Annual Reports: 1996, 1997, 2005. They are missing from the clubs archives and needed to retain a full set. Please advise admin staff if you have any information regarding this.

ABSENT MEMBERS

Having absent membership gives you no access to the club. If you need access you will need to contact the office who will activate temporary access on your tag.

BOATIES REPORT

The Bondi Boat Club is in full swing, and much to Gawk's delight, there are more good results to report. Harvey's Vixens have been experiencing a purple patch lately. They bagged another first place in the second Sydney Branch carnival held at Elouera. That's two wins from two branch carnivals, which makes the Vixens the Sydney branch representatives in the Open Women's division. This is the first time Bondi have ever had a boat crew represent the Sydney branch. Well done Havery Barratt, Claire Cupitt, Chantal Guziak, Adele Meagher and Jeanette Lambert.

The foxy ladies also made the journey down to the beautiful Mollymook carnival last weekend, where there was a good turnout of crews vying for the large prize pool. They rowed well through to the semi-finals, before being smashed on the bank, breaking some equipment and going out in spectacular style.

The Blackbird's were so impressed with their early season form that they've had a few weeks off to let the rest catch up. One blackbird is living it up on the north coast, and another is in America chasing UFO's around the desert. Therefore it's individual training for the girls until it's proven that there are other life forms out there. They will hopefully reunite before Christmas.

The Under 23 colts crew have suffered a loss, with Johnny doing some major damage to his knee while playing footy. It looks like he'll be out for the season, so if anyone knows of someone who could fill the seat either for a short period or the whole season, please let sweep Hoggy know.

The Fairy Floss reserves crew have made the adjustments to savlon free rowing. As a result the seats in the 'Dig IV' make for a much smoother lube-free rowing experience. The Floss kicked off their season at Mollymook last weekend, and impressed all who attended. Using their trademark long and strong stroke, they won every race and easily made the final in cold, wet and windy south coast conditions. The Floss were then winning the final, until North Cronulla pulled a wave from nowhere and snuck through for the win, leaving the Floss to settle for second. Well done boys.

Harvey's A crew have recovered from the wedding event of the year. The weather was magnificent, the bride looked beautiful and Damien refrained from the rums until after the speech. The surf club looked amazing for the reception and the dance floor got a decent workout until the early hours. Despite these extracurricular activities, and Grant trying to steal our bowman for the ski team, the 1100's will make their first appearance at the Queenscliff carnival this weekend. Tough training sessions run by the new husband have been frequent, and the A boys, with one fully recovered knee, are pumped and raring to go. Let's hope Harvey can not only dial 1100 before he digs, but he can dial a wave as well.

I had an encounter with a few of the members from the mighty masters crew, the MoMen on the weekend. While looking rather reflective for this time of the season, they ensured me that their tan fitness is on the increase. They are once again aiming to make an appearance for their token 3 carnival season, Aussie titles included. The other masters crew, the Teletubbies, have been lingering around and will be back on the water soon.

This weekend we have the Queenscliff full carnival. There will be some stiff competition and the Bondi crews will be eager to test their speed against some of the big clubs from the North. Of course there is nothing better to do after a hard day on the beach than to don your best naughty or nice costume and enjoy a few thirst quenchers at the Bondi Christmas party. See you all there.

Fellow surfers,

Another great morning & it was good to be back on the sand and having fun with where to place the buoys & not getting in the way of the Nippers.

A Grade saw Nezy sneak in south of a large congested group of swimmers, who were getting all the attention, until Nezy popped up a clear winner, after swimming straight across the rip. Danny was a good second with Blake, not far behind him.

B Grade confirmed that old adage that you never know who has won, until the recorder takes your name. Grant Sassall came out of the water first, however, as he was wearing a wetsuit only got a point for starting & those following hung off, until the crowd got them moving with Joel just nudging out Chris with Louise a close third.

Louise, Joel and Chris celebrate B-grade victory!

C Grade had small numbers again & I have spoken to the Nippers & Mike clearly wants them to compete, so we will persevere with the current arrangement. Lili had a good race, Poppy a little way behind, with the Mighty Joe filling the minor placing.

We did not hold a tube race, but I will look at restarting this coming Sunday. Remember A & B Grade points go towards the Ron Turner Memorial. The Mick Shearman will then be held (11th December) all Active Members need to participate. Ask you Patrol Captain about it or me.

Hope to see you all down there. Remember it is as serious or as much fun as you want it to be, so come down & participate with your fellow members.
